The WA Trails and Recreation Forum will showcase the major trails projects underway in the Great Southern region. Presenters from across the State will inform and educate you on a wide range of topics, including:

- sustainable trail planning and building
- trails as a recovery tool
- how trails and outdoor recreation can build resilience
- Aboriginal tourism
- stewardship of trails and outdoor spaces.

Former Olympic athlete and passionate outdoor recreation advocate Emma George will give the keynote address on her journey of recovery and resilience.

This forum is a valuable networking opportunity for the wider trails and outdoor recreation community including land managers, government agencies, local government officers, trails and outdoor recreation advocates, the corporate sector, educators and volunteers.
