VOTING for elections

VOTING for elections should not be compulsory. This makes it political ,(eg NSW), normal people could not afford to run, it would be running for a political party , and not local. Most people aren't involved. A very bad move. Even the UK does not have Federal elections that are compulsory, nor the US. In not saying they're perfect , but there is no case for compulsory L G elections.

Thank You,

Paul Clements

Council Meetings :

The Electors meetings must be retained. Thats where electors set the agenda and pass motions.

To call a special electors meeting, 200 signatures should be required.NOT 500 !

Thank you,

Paul Clements
